

Home > Elsewhere & Around > Open Call | Ras Masqa Artists in Residence

Deadline: January 3, 2016

Location: Ras Masqa (Koura District), Northern Governorate of Lebanon
Main partners: Municipality of Ras Masqa, Lebanese University (Institute of Fine Arts)
Curator: Amanda Abi Khalil
Artistic coordinators and residency tutors:
– Dr Ali El Ali (Artist and Professor at the Institute of Fine Arts of the Lebanese University)
– Roy Dib (Artist and Journalist, from Ras Masqa)

The “Museum in the Making” initiated by APEAL (The Association for the Promotion and Exhibition of the Arts in Lebanon), with the contribution of Temporary. Art. Platform (T.A.P) is launching an open call for six artists-in-residence in the village of Ras Masqa.

The program will be focusing on the theme of “art education” by taking the village of Ras Masqa and its surroundings as a site of exploration.

Eligibility

The residency is open to Lebanese individuals (from any country of residence) and to individuals based in Lebanon (from any nationality) of all ages with practices that share the concerns of the residency (collective proposals cannot be considered).
Ras Masqa Artists in Residence (RMAR) is seeking submissions from participants of all disciplines: visual artists, writers, musicians, designers and other cultural practitioners.

Participants will be expected to fully commit to the spirit of residency: to reside in the town for the duration of the program and to encourage an environment of discussion, collaboration and collective engagement amongst all six participants.

The residency will encourage the production, if relevant, of an intervention, workshop or artwork during or upon completion of the residency, however this is not mandatory.

Duration: One month
Dates: 18 March – 18 April, 2016
Number of participants to be selected: six
